LIFE AT KMUTT

Campus
Established in 1960, as Thonburi Technical Institute, presently KMUTT has 3 campuses and 1 city center.

1. Bangmod Campus
   KMUTT Bangmod Campus is around 45 minutes drive from Suvarnabhumi Airport. This Campus is located in ‘Thonburi’, formerly the capital of Thailand. Half a century ago, this area was full of orange orchards, so-called ‘Som Bangmod’ and it was remote and underdeveloped. However, as KMUTT’s yearly enrolments increased, the area soon became a new satellite city with increasing shops, houses, apartment buildings, restaurants, cinema houses, department stores, and places for entertainment, but the cost of living is still very affordable.

Presently, Bangmod campus is the main administrative campus, which homes of about 17,000 students and 2,000 academic staff members and personnel. The area of 135 Rai (54 acres) includes 9 faculties / schools; Faculty of Engineering (FoE), Faculty of Industrial Education and Technology (EDU), Faculty of Science (SC), Graduate School of Management and Innovation (GMI), Institute of Field Robotics (FiBO), School of Energy, Environment and Materials (SEEM), School of Information Technology (SIT), School of Liberal Arts (SoLA) and the Joint Graduate School of Energy and Environment (JGSEE).

2. Bangkhuntien Campus (BKT)
   This campus is located in Bangkhuntien district, Bangkok about 20 km. away from the Bangmod campus, with total area of 200 Rai (80 acres). This campus includes two schools: School of Architecture and Design (SoA+D) and School of Bioresources and Technology (SBT); and two scientific institutes namely Pilot Plant Development and Training Institute (PDTI) and Industrial Park Center (IPC). The two institutions cooperatively work to support each other in both the production of graduates in needed fields of science and technology and in the development of technology within the same area. Bangkhuntien is therefore the “Research Institute and Industrial Park” of KMUTT.

3. Rajaburi Campus
   This campus is located in Rajaburi province with total area of 1,150 Rai (460 acres). The site is highly suitable for teaching and learning, conducting research, providing academic services in the area, and disseminating knowledge about technology and arts. The campus can be developed into the country’s “Western Educational Park / Industrial Park”. The Information Technology program has started from 1996. The philosophy and method of teaching is with significant input from Massachusetts
In the era of flexible learning, it requires the higher educational institutions to be multifunctional, more friendly and ‘relevant’. The connections between education, professionals, society and individuals have to be established and strengthened.

A center for education, invention and networking is proposed to make use of the opportunity. The Bangkok CODE, King Mongkut’s University of Technology Thonburi City Center focuses on activities for human resource development. Aiming at producing world-class standard professionals, the center will be a place for both local and international professional interactions.

Rather than solely conforming to pre-established standards, the center supports the freedom of individuals and their innovations in order to prepare them for the ever-changing, dynamic world.

Do and Don’t

Here are just a few, but the most important things.

The nation: The national anthem is played twice a day, typically at 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.). Everyone is expected to stand whilst it is playing to show respect to the nation.

The Monarchy: Thai people have a deep, traditional reverence for the Royal Family, and visitors should be careful to show respect for the King, the Queen and the Royal Family. You should never insult or joke about the king or royal family.

Religion: Visitors should dress neatly in all religious shrines. They should never go topless, or in shorts, hot pants or other unsuitable attire. It is acceptable to wear shoes when walking around the compound of a Buddhist temple, but not inside the chapel where the principal Buddha image is kept. Each Buddha image, large or small, ruined or not, is regarded as a sacred object. Never climb onto one to take a photograph or do anything which might indicate a lack of respect. Buddhist monks are forbidden to touch or be touched or to accept anything from hand to hand by a woman. If a woman has to give anything to a monk, a monk will lay down his handy cloth then she can put the things on, alternately she can hands it to a man, who then presents it.

Greeting: Thais don’t normally shake hands when they greet one another, but instead press the palms together in a prayer-like gesture called a wai. Generally, a younger person wais an elder, who returns it.

Gestures: Thais regard the head as the highest part of the body, literally and figuratively. Therefore, avoid touching people on the head and try not to point your feet at people or an object. It is considered very rude. Shoes should be removed when entering a private Thai home.

Affection: Public displays of affection between men and women are frowned upon by Thai people. Don’t kiss, fondle or express in sexual senses in public places.

Tipping: Services in Bangkok are not expensive. It is not necessary here to tip taxi drivers, and other but always appreciated. However, it is customary to leave a small tip in nice restaurant, about 20-40 baht. Many restaurants include a 10% service charge, please check the bill.
Visa

All international students studying in Thailand are required to act in accordance with the laws of Thailand, in particular those concerning visa matters. Meanwhile, they also have responsibility for all visa performance.

The acceptance letter from the university will enable you to get a visa from Thai Embassy. The type of visa you need is a Non-immigrant: Education class or so-called Non-ED. There are two types of visa on your choices.

- Single-entry visa. The date printed on visa label is the date which you must use to enter Thailand. It is not the date that you are allowed to stay. After your arrival, your period of stay is determined by the Immigration Office at the checkpoint. Normally, it will be valid only for 90 days when you first enter to Thailand.

  Please carefully check the date on the stamp, as it is the date which you should get an extension of your staying period.

  Within these 90 days, you have to register and pay tuition fee at the university. Consequently, at least 7 days in advance before your visa expiration, you have to submit a copy of your passport (personal page and visa stamped page) to IA in order to issue a confirmation letter about your study and registration. Then, you can use the confirmation letter to apply, in person, for visa extension at the Office of Immigration Bureau. In addition, you need to prepare extra documents upon the requests from the Immigration Office. Basically, IA will prepare an extension documents and a map for you.

  This time, you should be granted a visa for one-year stay or until the rest of your study period. The visa extension for the following year is also in the same technical procedures.

  In case you want to travel out of the country, you need to apply for a re-entry permit before traveling. If not, you can not hold Non-ED anymore. You will come back to Thailand with a new type of visa (a tourist-visa: TR), then again you need to prepare traveling out to apply for Non-ED at the Thai Embassy abroad.

  Multiple-entry visa. This type of visa allows you to travel in and out of the country several times, until the date of visa on the label is expired, without the need of a re-entry permit. Every time you leave and return, your period of stay is extended for 90 days or as shown on the immigration stamp upon each return. To extend this type of visa, you have to leave and return before each 90 days is over.

  You should be careful, if you extend your period of stay with the same method of a single-entry visa, your multiple-entry visa will automatically change to a single-entry visa.

Please note that if you stay longer than the date shown in the immigration stamp, you need to pay penalty fee 500 a day.

The 90 Days Notification
At the checkpoint entry in Thailand, the 90 Days Notification card is tagged into your passport.

You need to notify, either in person or by posting, the Immigration Bureau every 90 days and inform them your current address. It’s a very simple form you have to fill in with free of charge. Later, you will get a slip for the next appointment date.

Again, the next notification is also in the same technically procedures.

Since the visa processes may be subjected to changes by the Immigration Bureau, we recommend you to find out the most updated information from the Office of Immigration Bureau at www.immigration.go.th.

Money
The local currency is ‘Baht’. There are coins of 25 and 50 satang, equal to one quarter and one-half of a baht respectively, then 1 baht, 2 baht, 5 baht, and 10 baht. In addition, there are note of 10 baht (brown), 20 baht (green), 50 baht (blue), 100 baht (red), 500 baht (purple), and 1,000 baht (beige).

Around the city, you can find many banks and foreign exchange services. Additionally, Exchange kiosks are opened everyday from 7.00 a.m.- 9.00 p.m. Rate fluctuates daily and varies by services. Your passport is needed for the exchange process.

Business Hours

Local calls or domestic calls, on land lines, are prefixed with a 02 followed by 7-digit numbers for Bangkok, Samutprakarn, Phathumthani, and Nonthaburi. For other provinces, such as Chiang Mai, the prefix of 3-digit numbers is up to each area code then followed by 6-digit numbers.

Most mobile phones, can be used around Thailand, are prefixed with a 08 followed by 8-digit numbers. You can bring your mobile phone from home then buy a pre-paid Thai SIM card. This will give you a local phone number in Thailand. With a pre-paid card, rate of callings is varies upon a package. Re-charge cards are 50, 100, 150, 200, 300 Baht.

When calling a number in Thailand, it is necessary to dial the whole number, including the area code, even if you are in the same area.

Internet facilities are available throughout the country. Even the smallest town will boast an Internet Cafe of some sort and charges are very low. The local internet system offers package deals, based on the week, month or a number of hours. You can simply purchase the package from a local computer shop.

Postal Service

The postal service is generally very efficient and inexpensive. Most post offices are open on weekdays from 8:30 am to 4.30 pm. However, in major tourist destinations, it may be open until 8 pm.

Credit Cards

Major credit cards are accepted in large department stores, restaurants and shops. You may be able to use your card at some ATM machines to withdraw cash, but please check with your bank or card company in advance.
